Mary Jane Marries John

BURBANK ACTOR TO WED MISS MARY JANE BENNETT

MARY JANE BENNETT
... engaged

John Wilder, Burbank actor, and Mary Jane Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bennett, of 1818 Parkside Ave., have announced wedding plans for the early part of next year.

The announcement was made by Miss Bennett by the traditional passing of candy to her Alpha Delta Pi sorority sister at UCLA. The large, heart-shaped box of candy was a gift from her fiancé.

Mr. Wilder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill F. McGovern, of 637 S. Beachwood. Born John M. McGovern, he officially became John Wilder in a Los Angeles court in January.

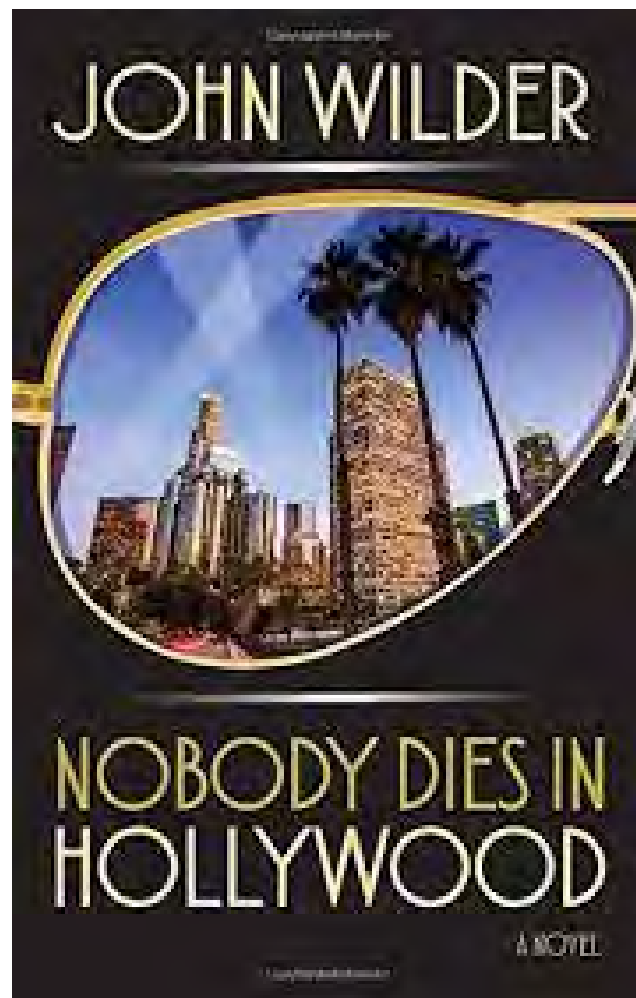

Active in radio, television and motion pictures, he asked for the name change because there is a John McGovern on the New York stage who has priority to the name, according to Actors Equity, he said.

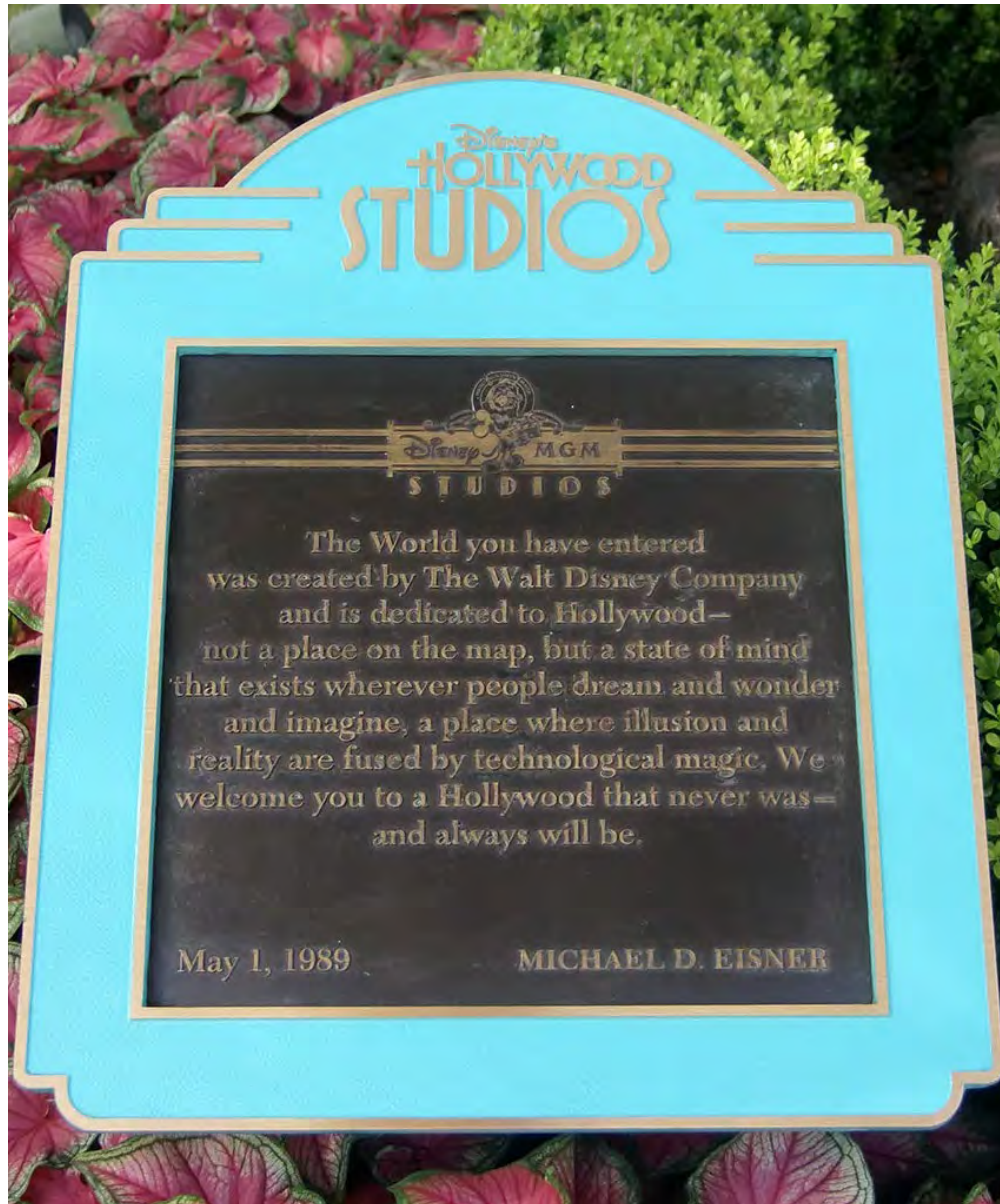

The romance dates from student days at John Burroughs High School. Miss Bennett received her Associated Arts degrees at Glendale College before entering UCLA.

Mr. Wilder, who began his acting career at the age of 9, has appeared on more than 4,500 major network radio shows. He originated the role of "Joey" of the Beverly Hills Beavers on the Jack Benny show. He has appeared in 50 television shows and has just completed his first co-starring motion picture role in Universal's "Summer Love

Windsor Skyline: Center to display woman's artwork

Painting opens way to fantasy

By DENNIS TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

Her artwork was the doorway to a fantasy world when Maxine Patin was a child, the oldest of six children growing up in Culver City during The Great Depression. Her family was dirt-poor. She remembers her father as a strikingly handsome man with a violent streak. "He would pick up my little brother, who was 4 years old, and throw him across the room," remembers Patin, now 95. "He was such a mean man that none of us felt sad when he died. And I grew up thinking all handsome men were mean."

Artwork was her escape. Patin was just 5 when she started painting, and her passion never stopped growing. A sketch she made of her family as a child depicts her parents, all of the kids, and a turkey with an artificial leg.

The gobbler got too close to a lawn mower in the yard one day and lost the limb. Her father, a carpenter, made a new one out of wood.

"She got along just fine with it," Patin says, remembering. "In fact, she went through three of them."

That turkey sketch will be on display Sunday, alongside Patin's fine-art watercolor pieces, at a one-woman show at Windsor Skyline Care Center in Salinas, beginning at 2 p.m.

As a teenager, Patin did fashion sketches in colored pencil. She developed a love for watercolors, producing moody landscapes, Maxine Patin's artwork will be featured at the Windsor Skyline Care Center in Salinas on Nov. 8.
